HOLIDAY EVENTS

Downtown Christmas events set for Friday

By Larry Rowell
Editor

This year's downtown Christmas celebration, with the theme "Twas the Night Before Christmas," will take place from 5-7 p.m. on Friday, Dec. 12.

Originally scheduled for Dec. 5, city officials postponed the event on Dec. 3 because of strong rains predicted to hit the area in early afternoon. As it turned out, it was a good call.

With favorable weather forecast for Friday, the celebration will feature a lighted Christmas parade, live music, wagon rides, vendors, an auction, free food and drinks, and the event is capped off with a visit from jolly old Saint Nick, said Josh Switzer, Director of the Liberty-Casey County Chamber of Commerce.

New this year is the living nativity scene, which will be held on the courthouse lawn behind the old Courthouse.

"There will also be people telling the Christmas story, which adds to the nativity scene," Switzer said.

The parade, which has gotten better and better each year, is a big draw for attendees.

Trophies and prize money will be awarded for the top

Six-year-old calls cops, grandmother arrested

By Larry Rowell
Editor

A call early Saturday morning from a 6-year-old girl to Casey County E-911 dispatch saying that she was crying and scared resulted in the arrest of her 54-year-old grandmother on a charge of child abandonment.

According to court records, Deputy Jordan Buis found the child about 2 a.m., two miles from the location she called from, walking on the road in a cold rain without shoes.

Further, the child told Buis that Peggy E. Long, of 5824 Ky. 1859 (Chicken Gizzard Road), Liberty, had grabbed her by the arm and pushed her out the door. Long has also been charged with fourth-degree assault domestic violence, no visible injury.

The child also said that her grandmother was depressed and falling down because her husband passed away last year. Buis had to break into the residence because Long, who had locked the doors, had passed out due to ingesting alcohol and medication, court records state.

Long was taken to Casey County Detention Center.

HONORING OUR VETERANS

Family of highly decorated veteran receives Silver Star grave marker

By Abigail Whitehouse
Staff Writer

Charles Davis was one heck of a soldier – at least that's how each of his closest friends and family remember him. After dedicating his life to serving his country, Davis passed away on Dec. 14, 2013, without ever knowing that he was awarded the third highest military decoration for valor, the Silver Star.

Born in Casey County on Dec. 12, 1932, Davis grew up to become a First Sergeant in the United States Army and one who spent five combat tours in Vietnam.

As a man who served alongside Davis in Vietnam, his nephew, Royce Davis, got a firsthand look at the type of soldier his uncle truly was.

"He was a natural leader," Royce said. "People were drawn to him because he would take charge and make sure things were taken care of right."

Royce considered his uncle to be more like a super-uncle, or even a brother, someone who was always looking out for him.

"He was always about serving other people and taking care of his soldiers," Royce said. "He led his soldiers from the front and he saved so many soldiers' lives."

When Davis passed away there was never any question about his military prestige, but when the family went to request a special

Almost exactly one year after United States Army veteran Charles Davis was laid to rest in the Old Antioch Cemetery, his family and friends set out to order the proper military grave marker after realizing the original was missing some awards. The story of Davis' service was highly decorated, with five combat tours in Vietnam and the third highest military medal a soldier can be awarded – the Silver Star.

military grave marker they began to learn much more about Davis than even he himself had ever known.

Davis was never the type to boast, Royce said. He went out of his way to help people in any way that he could but he was not the type to wait around expecting some reward.

So although Davis knew he had been recommended for the Silver Star, he never learned that it was actually awarded to him.

Glen Phillips Jr., retired U.S. Army Staff Sergeant and an active member of Casey County's veteran community, came to the aid of the Davis' and offered to get the Department of Veteran's Affairs moving on the marker.

"When I first looked at his documents the highest award that I could see was the Bronze Star with a V Device," Phillips said. "I sent the documents to the V.A. and in the meantime I started talking to Charles' wife and family. I wanted to know Charles' story."

As Phillips learned more about Davis, he realized that his story was a remarkable one, and one that needed to be told.

"The first list didn't have all of his

Audit shows hospital is healthy financially

By Larry Rowell

With the ultramodern Casey County Hospital being equipped to offer residents professional health care, it's also flexing its own muscles from a financial standpoint.

Rodney Welch, of Welch and Co. Certified Public Accountants, told hospital board members on Dec. 1 there were no problems with its audit of the fiscal year ending June 30, 2014.

Welch said that a figure the board should be proud of is assets in excess of debt, which stands at $6.1 million.

Welch also said that total operating revenues are $17.9 million, up from 2013.

"That's net over some things we don't have any control over — Medicare, Medicaid, and the insurance companies reduced our total payback by over $12.5 million. That was their reduction for taking their payment plan," he said. "We also had over $1 million in charities in supporting Casey County. We wrote off more than $1 million."

Operating expenses of $18 million include $8.8 million for salaries and wages as well as $1.7 million for employee benefits. Almost $1.5 million was spent on professional fees.

Total income for the year ended June 30 stood at $146,000, about $250,000 less than the previous year.

"We lost $151,000 in government sequestration that we'll never recover. They would not pay us the money we were owed while they were shut down. We also lost about $200,000 in the 340 B

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Honor Guard dedicated to service

The Casey County Funeral Squad and Honor Guard is still honorable and dedicated to serve all the people. Though our numbers have diminished because of sickness and age, we carry on.

I have been with this organization for about 20 years. The weather was never too hot, cold, dry or wet that we did not give 100 percent of ourselves. I am proud of each and every one of them. It's time for some of them to retire.

We ask that if you are concerned and would wish to join us, we welcome you as a member if you are qualified. We continue to serve the people who have laid down their lives or put their lives on the line that we may be free, and give back to them the honor and respect that we owe them. Please get in touch with Larry Fox, 606-303-4354, Benny Lawhorn, 606-787-6305, Everett Ray Kidd, 606-787-4634, or any other member. When times get tough, the tough get going.

We will be meeting on Dec. 16 at 7 p.m. All are invited.

Those elected should be creating jobs

This is in reference to the 3 percent restaurant tax for dining in our four or five restaurants that we have because people in this county don't want anything.

This is a poor county and not everyone has these good paying jobs like those we elected. You can probably afford this tax but I will tell you what will happen. People will pay the tax. The waiter just won't get a tip. So I guess that tax can be given to them or their employer can pay them more for working for them since the people won't be leaving tips.

This place is getting worse all the time. If these elected people would worry about bringing good paying jobs here they would be doing a lot. But I forgot, this is Casey County and half the people here are on welfare. So if there were some places to work, they might work.

This county has never had anything and they don't want anything. Just don't know why we need all these banks with no jobs here.

that they question whether she took her own life.

There's no doubt of their love for Leah and a desire to verify their suspicions surrounding their loved one's death.

However, it was the remarks that Sierra leveled at authorities during that TV interview that disturbed me.

"I think this is just ignorant, being inequipped, inadequate, untrained," Sierra said, referring to the way Clark and Luttrell handled the investigation.

Her remarks are evidently based on a report she obtained from George R. Nichols II, former chief medical examiner of Kentucky from 1977 to 1997.

After reviewing documents written by Clark and Luttrell, Nichols rendered his own opinion, calling the investigation "incomplete, flawed, non-scientific, witness biased, deficient, and lazy. He said it had a "predictable" outcome," WKYT reported.

What troubles me about this is the fact that good public servants have been criticized on TV for making what they believed was the right call.

Tommy Clark has served as coroner for the past 16 years, being elected by the voters of Casey County four times.

Freeman Luttrell has been in law enforcement in Casey County for almost 13 years and this wasn't the first case like this he's worked.

It's my opinion, based on having worked in Casey County for more than six years, that both Clark and Luttrell are honorable and honest men who were simply trying to do their jobs to the best of their abilities.

This isn't NCIS or CSI or Law and Order and all those other TV programs where seemingly complex cases are solved in an hour's time, using unlimited resources.

Investigations are conducted based on experience and evidence at the scene. They made the call based on what they saw.

I've also heard the rumors of a cover-up to protect certain families.

As a journalist, I've had many tips about public officials and possible wrongdoing.

But I have never, not one time, had someone even hint that any county or city law enforcement officer was irresponsible, inept, corrupt, or dishonest. And that includes our current coroner.

These two men receive very little in the way of compensation and appreciation for the jobs they do everyday.

I am of the opinion that someone needed to defend and yes, thank them, for their service to the citizens of this county.

This case, WKYT reported, is scheduled to go before a Casey County grand jury next month.

If charges are filed against someone, then we'll report it. But until then, a family goes on grieving.

I don't want to do your dirty work

I couldn't tell you how many times, throughout my childhood and even my adult educational years, I have heard or read the words, "America is a democracy."

For 24 years, I have strolled leisurely, with my hands rested in my pockets, whistling, believing and regurgitating, "America is a democracy."

So imagine my surprise when I emerged, from months of intensive research and constant answer-seeking, to find that the entire system of government I had blindly believed in was a complete sham.

I know at this point I probably sound like a conspiracy theorist, but then again it's a popular strategy of people in power to paint anyone raising questions as a complete lunatic.

America is not a democracy. In fact, no true democracy actually exists. In order to be deemed a true democracy, it must be maintained by well-informed, organized citizens who serve as the primary source of political voice and power.

After America went to the polls this past November, we all watched as citizens across the U.S. raised their voices loud and clear. And since the elections, we've watched our president and the U.S. government blatantly cast aside the voice of the people, as though swatting a pesky fly.

This is the first time in my six years of voting that I have felt with complete conviction that my vote makes absolutely no difference at all. Because if you study the system, its quite plain to see that those in power have no real intention of carrying out the will of the people, and so long as they let us pretend to participate in this fake democracy, they can keep us out of the way.

With big business and mainstream media in the pockets of America's elite, we are presented with what seems to be elections

Abigail
WHITEHOUSE
Staff Writer

of choice. But how many times have you found yourself voting for "the lesser of the two evils," because you were told that was your only option.

In a documentary film titled Ethos, Woody Harrelson said, "The media in the hands of big business will only present us with politicians who will serve their interest. It would be completely illogical for them to do otherwise. It would also be illogical to expect politicians to change a system that puts them in power, but it certainly begs the question, just what kind of democracy do we have?"

The documentary also points out that when so much money surrounds our "election" process, we no longer have real elections but instead an auction.

Everywhere I look, in every aspect of our lives, I see more and more government involvement — education, transportation, health-care, business, agriculture, etc. Each day I feel something small disappear from my list of civil liberties, while the majority of Americans are too busy fighting against each other to notice.

I woke up today knowing that the world I am going to inherit is a colossal disaster. And to be frank, I'm not happy about it.

It feels as though I am being forced to undergo a heart transplant, but instead of getting a healthier heart, I get a disease-ridden muscle covered in holes and greed.

And as I lay cut open on the operation table...I have only one question for my parents, those of you Baby Boomers, or members of any generation preceding my own — how could you ever let things get this far?

The best Christmas present

Joberta
WELLS
Columnist

I have a question for you, especially those of you who were born before the Internet. What was your most memorable Christmas gift? I don't mean the one your parents had to take out a second mortgage to buy. I mean the one that will live in your memory and your heart until you are as old as I am.

Everybody who was alive at the time remembers where they were when President Kennedy was shot, when the towers came down on 9-11-01, and when the Casey County Rebels went to the Sweet 16. I know you remember the Christmas gift you loved the most.

My all-time favorite movie is "A Christmas Story." The 9-year-old hero, Ralphie Parker, wants only one thing for Christmas: a Red Ryder Carbine Action 200-shot Range Model air rifle with a compass in the stock and "this thing which tells time". If you haven't seen the movie (poor you), you don't know what he goes through to get that air rifle, which he does get in the end. As an adult he says it was the best Christmas present he ever got.

If you believe everything you see on TV these days, every kid wants X-Boxes, whatever they are, and other electronic devices that cost an arm and a leg, and force consenting parents to take out a loan to buy them. I am heartened, however, by the Lego trend. Legos are today's version of the Tinker Toys and Lincoln Logs from my childhood. They require no electricity and no batteries and very little parental intervention. (NOTE TO PARENTS: Don't suck them up in your vacuum cleaner because they will break it. I know this from experience. Don't let the dog eat them, either. I don't own a dog but I suspect they could break the dog, too.)

Let's be frank — who actually wants a Chia Pet? If you actually got one when you were a kid, was it your favorite gift of all time? I didn't think so! What a hoot!

My favorite Christmas present was a doll bed with a canopy that my mother made out of a little cardboard box she covered in fabric. It had bedposts made of the old-fashioned clothespins (not the ones with springs). She made one just like it for my sister. She also made a blanket for each of white cotton flannel with a pink and white striped flannel border. Since my sister and I have the same initial in our first names she embroidered the first letter of our middle names on that border. Mine was "E" for Elizabeth and my sister's was "N" for Nell. I still have that little blanket, believe it or not.

I won't speak for my brother but I do remember how excited he was when he got either a Roy Rogers or a Gene Autry cowboy gun belt with two cap pistols. He was always a big Gene Autry fan. I preferred Roy, myself, but I wasn't into cap pistols.

During this Christmas season consider a gift that would be more meaningful than an X-Box or some other expensive device when you are buying presents for friends and relatives. I would like to encourage you to make a donation to a food bank, a homeless shelter, an animal rescue group, or another charity for which that gift would be so much more meaningful. Since I believe charity should begin at home, consider a donation to the Casey County Community Ministries, a nondenominational group that does so much for so many.

I wish all of you a very happy Christmas. May your hearts be full of love and happiness. I hope your pocketbooks will be as full.

Let there be peace on Earth!

Dunnville Christian Church concert to raise money for backpack program

'A Tennessee Christmas' musical event set for Dec. 19

By Larry Rowell
Editor

If Christmas is the season of generosity and good cheer, Dunnville Christian Church is doing its part by raising money for hungry kids in Casey County.

On Friday, Dec. 19 at 7 p.m., the church on U.S. 127 in Dunnville is hosting "A Tennessee Christmas" featuring Jason Coleman and Meagan Taylor, who will perform Christmas music in the country style of Nashville and the Grand Old Opry. Coleman is the grandson of Floyd Cramer and Taylor is the great-niece of Chet Atkins.

"The whole point of this is to help raise awareness in the community and get donations to help supplement Casey County Schools' Backpack Program, in conjunction with Casey County Community ministries and the school district's Youth Services and Family Resource Centers," said DCC Pastor Derick Terry, adding that while there's no admission charge for "A Tennessee Christmas," monetary donations will be accepted at the door.

The Backpack Program, administered by the Family Resource Centers, consists of sending home with underfunded students on weekends backpacks filled with non-perishable food items such as canned meats, apple sauce, fruit cups, cereal bars, pop tarts, raisins, pudding cups, juice boxes and snack crackers, said Barb Pelley, who works with Community Education/Migrant Education in the Dunnville Christian Church, on U.S. 127 in Dunnville, is hosting a "Tennessee Christmas" concert on Friday, Dec. 19 at 7 p.m. to benefit the Casey school's backpack program which feeds hungry kids on the weekends. The event will feature Meagan Taylor, the great niece of Chet Atkins, and Jason Coleman, the grandson of Floyd Cramer. The concert is free but monetary donations will be accepted.

Casey School District.

"Right now we have 163 students — 33 in the middle and high school, 130 in the three elementary schools — and that fluctuates from month-to-month," Pelley said. "It's a teacher referral program, not from parent request, it's from teachers and cafeteria ladies and school staff who tell us that a kid's hungry," she said.

It costs approximately $2.50 per week, or $100 a school year for one child in the program, Pelley said. The program operates on donations from the community and individual donations are always welcome, she said.

For DCC, in practicing what it preaches, members packed 125 bags of food over fall break and delivered them to the school district to be sent home with students in the backpack program.

Terry said that not only does the church do this in the fall over Christmas break, food bags are packed for kids to take home during spring break.

five floats in the parade. First place will receive $550; second, $450; third, $350; fourth, $250; and fifth, $150.

Since Liberty Fire Department won the traveling first-place trophy last year, they won't be eligible to win this year. However, they will bring Santa into town on their firetruck in the parade.

Individuals also have an opportunity to show off their wreath making skills by entering the wreath contest.

Contestants can make a wreath, of any materials or size, and turn it into City Hall by mid-day on Friday to be entered in the contest. Judges will then choose the top three winners who based their creations on the Twas the Night Before Christmas theme as well as the construction, originality, and overall appearance. Prizes of $100, $50, and $25, will be awarded.

The wreaths, along with other donated items, will be auctioned off at 5:45 p.m., with the proceeds benefiting the Casey County Community Ministries' Toys for Kids program. Official rules and an entry form are available at the chamber office at City Hall, or by calling 787-9973.

Switzer said that this year, vendors will man their booths from 9 a.m.

to 8 p.m. in the old King's Dept. Store building. And, he added, local downtown businesses will be open during the celebration.

The celebration begins at 5 p.m. with the closing of the downtown streets around Courthouse Square.

The Casey County Cattlemen's Association and the Casey County Pork Producers will serve free chili along with the Village Restaurant offering free sandwiches.

A host of local sponsors — Casey County Bank, Monticello Banking Company, Farmers Deposit Bank, Lifeline Home Health, and Sweet Beans and Things — will offer items such as coffee, hot chocolate, cider, cookies, popcorn, candy canes and more, while it lasts.

Students with the 4-H program will be handling the snow machine, which is always a big hit with the kids.

The lighted parade will start at 6:30 p.m. at Liberty Elementary School and go west on Middleburg Street, circle around Courthouse Square, then down Hustonville Street. Santa Claus will round out the back of the parade and be available in the courthouse after the parade for pictures with the children.

For those wanting to enter a float in the parade, contact Dale Hoskins at 303-3315, or Switzer at City Hall.

plan, the prescription drug plan. If you put those together, we should be able to put about $350,000 to that $146,000. But the bottom line, it's lost money," Welch said.

However, CEO Rusty Tunge said that the hospital will be able to recoup a good portion of that 340 B funds by opening its own pharmacy, which it will do this year.

As for long term debt, the hospital owes $20.5 million, which will interest added in will amount to $35 million.

A payment of $1.6 million is due this year on four bonds, leases, a property loan, and a line of credit.

Silver Star

awards," Phillips said. "When they sent Royce an official list of what Charles had earned, the first thing I saw was Silver Star Recipient, which knocked his Bronze Star out of the water. I had cold chills just looking at the list."

Davis was also wounded twice. He was shot once in the arm, and again in the leg, though on two different occasions.

After realizing that yet another marker would have to be ordered to include the Silver Star, Phillips and the family sent in the final list and proper information.

A long and dedicated life of military service is celebrated across the grave of Charles Davis. The new marker is painted in Davis' military awards with the Silver Star placed above the rest and underneath, a Bronze Star Medal with "V" Device and five Oak Leaf Clusters, two Purple Hearts, and two Air Medals.

"You dont see people like this everyday," Phillips said. "I've dealt with a lot of veterans, for years and years, and you just don't see people that have spent this much time in combat."

The mission of Phillips and the family to get Davis' grave marker right revealed so many things about the man that no one had really known.

"The worst thing for a soldier is to be forgotten,"

Phillips said. "Charles set the standard, there is no doubt about that. Everything that I read and heard showed that Charles was the best at everything he did, from weapons qualifications to rifles and hand grenades. And when it came time for re-enlistments, he was there immediately to re-enlist."

Royce said Charles Davis was a quiet man who never wanted a bunch of recognition.

"He distinguished himself honorably in the military," Royce said. "And a lot of people are just now beginning to realize how much of a soldier he was. He just didn't boast about it."

In fact, Royce said, if Charles knew people were making a big deal about him being a great soldier, he would be embarrassed to some degree.

Nevertheless, it is recognition that his family believes he deserves.

"He was a soldier and that's what he wanted to do," Royce said. "I served three years in Iraq and talked to him on the phone regularly. He'd tell me that he wished he could be there with me."

Family came first to Davis and he's remembered by so many of those who knew him as not only the perfect soldier, but the perfect man.

On Dec. 14, 2013, Charles Willard Davis was laid to rest in the Old Antioch Cemetery with military funeral honors by the U.S. Army Fort Knox Color Guard.

"It's disappointing that he died not ever knowing that he was awarded the Silver Star," Royce said. "He was the type of soldier that they write books and make movies about."

Kynect health insurance rep at Casey County Hospital

A representative from Kynect, Kentucky's Healthcare Connection, will be at the Casey County Hospital on Wednesday, Dec. 17, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. EST to meet with anyone interested in obtaining health care insurance.

Many people may discover they are eligible for health insurance at no cost, or very little cost, as they may qualify for assistance to help pay their premiums. Even if a person did not qualify last year, they are encouraged to reapply, especially if there has been a change in financial status.

There is no charge for the Kynect representative's service, and no appointments are necessary. For any questions, please call the hospital at 606-787-6275.

Three-car collision causes early morning closure on U.S. 127

By Abigail Whitehouse
Staff Writer

A portion of U.S. 127 was closed Friday morning after a three-vehicle collision just north of the Bread of Life Cafe, sending two people to the Casey County Hospital.

According to Deputy Chad Weddle, the accident occurred at 7:21 a.m., about five miles south of Liberty, when Anthony Polly, 18, of Russell Springs, traveling northbound in a 1997 Saturn, crossed the center line while going around a curve and struck the driver's side of a 2005 Dodge Caravan.

The Dodge, driven by Victoria Allen, 60, of 54 Brown Court, Liberty, was traveling southbound when Polly sideswiped the van.

After colliding with Allen, Polly's vehicle continued to travel in the southbound lane until it crashed head-on into a 1999 Toyota Camry, driven by Clyde Allen. Allen, 20, of 67 Believers Lane, Liberty, was also traveling southbound when his Camry collided with the Saturn and struck the guard rail.

A three-vehicle collision occurred about a half mile north of the Bread of Life Cafe, and closed a portion of U.S. 127 Friday morning while emergency crews cleared the roadway. The accident occurred after a southbound driver lost control on the wet roadway and crossed paths with two more vehicles before coming to rest.

Department, as well as the Casey County Rescue Squad, responded to the accident.

According to Weddle, Casey County EMS took Polly to Casey County

Hospital, while Victoria Allen was taken to CCH in a private vehicle. Both Polly and Allen were treated for non-life threatening injuries. Clyde Allen was not injured.

The collision caused severe damage to all three vehicles and forced the closure of U.S. 127 for longer than an hour while emergency crews worked to clear the scene.

■ KSP Report

KSP releases November activity report

During the month of November 2014, there were 21 traffic and four fatal collisions accidents investigated by the State Police working in the Post 15 area covering Adair, Casey, Clinton, Cumberland, Green, Marion, Metcalfe, Monroe, Russell, Taylor and Washington counties.

Fatalities include Brian Chesser, 29, of Willisburg, on Nov. 3 in Washington County; Veronica D. Greene, 46, of Summersville, on Nov. 2 in Green County; Cody J. Strode, 20, of Summer Shade, on Nov. 4 in Metcalfe County; and Colby J. Thompson, 20, of Greensburg, on Nov. 25 in Green County.

This brings the yearly fatality count to 33 compared with 19 through the same period in 2013 while the state wide fatality count stands at 582 compared with 595 through the same period in 2013.

Also during the month, there were 1,246 citations written, 33 courtesy notices written, 1,337 vehicles inspected, 650 complaints answered, 53 motorists assisted, 71 criminal cases opened, and 220 criminal arrests made.

Tech products designed specifically for seniors

Dear Savvy Senior,

Can you recommend any tablets, smartphones or computers that are specifically designed for seniors? I would like to buy a device for my technology-challenged grandmother so she can get online and keep up with her grandkids better, but it needs to be super simplified so she can use it.

Holiday Shopper

Dear Shopper,

There are actually several new tech products on the market today that are designed specifically for older boomers and seniors that are unfamiliar or uncomfortable with technology.

These devices come equipped with simplified software, big, vivid features, less clutter and better customer support packages, which makes them more appealing and much easier to use than mainstream devices. Here are several top senior-friendly options to look into.

Smartphone

If you're thinking about a smartphone for your grandmother, check out the new GreatCall Touch3. Made by Samsung, this Android smartphone has a 4-inch touchscreen with an organized large icon menu list on the home screen that provides users simple access to often-used features like the phone, text messages, camera, pictures, email and Internet, along with your contacts and apps.

It also has a 5-megapixel camera, a full-size onscreen keyboard, and offers a variety of health and safety features like the 5Star app that lets you immediately speak to a certified agent 24/7 who can identify your location and get you the help you need. Urgent Care, which provides access to registered nurses and doctors for advice and diagnoses. And MedCoach, which sends medication reminders.

It is available at greatcall.com or 800-918-8543.

Tablet Computer

If you're considering a tablet, a top senior-friendly option is AARP's new RealPad, which is available at aarprealpad.org, walmart.com/realpad or Walmart stores.

Produced in partnership with Intel, the RealPad is an Android tablet with a 7.85-inch touchscreen. It provides a clutter-free simplified home page with large text icons to frequently used functions like email, social networks, weather, news, games, camera and pictures, Google, the Web, apps and more.

It also has a 2-megapixel front camera and 5-megapixel rear camera, and comes with 24/7 phone support, a bunch of tutorial videos, and a "Real Quick-

Fix" tool that connects users to technology support agents over the Internet who can access the tablet and fix problems.

Desktop Computer

If you think your grandmother would like a desktop computer, the Telikin (telikin.com, 800-717-7640), which has been around for three years now, is an excellent choice.

Ready to go right out of the box, this all-in-one touch-screen computer displays a big button menu on the screen at all times, providing simple access to most functions like the Internet, email, games, video chat, photo sharing, news and weather, and more.

Available in two sizes, these computers come with built-in speakers, a Web camera, microphone, wired keyboard and mouse. They also offer a "tech buddy" feature so you can access your grandma's Telikin computer remotely from your computer to help her when she needs it.

Running on Linux software instead of the standard Windows or Mac OS, the Telikin is also virus-resistant, comes with a 60-day trial period, a one-year warranty and free tech support.

It's also worth noting that Telikin has a partnership with firstSTREET – a senior product direct marketing company – that is also selling the 22-inch Telikin, but have rebranded it as the "WOW! Computer for Seniors."

Suspect frustrated by slow pace of Danville murder case

Danville Advocate Messenger

Kenneth Allen Keith came to Boyle Circuit Court Dec. 2 in hopes of getting a date for his capital murder trial in the shooting deaths of three people inside a Danville pawn shop last year.

Instead, Keith learned that prosecutors are still waiting on reports from a Kentucky State Police forensic lab and any discussion of a possible trial date is at least two months away.

Keith, 49, a Baptist preacher from Burnside, has been held without bond in the Boyle County Detention Center since he was arrested in October 2013 and charged with the murders of Mike and Angela Hockensmith of Stanford and gold buyer Daniel Smith of Richmond, who were gunned down inside ABC Gold Games and More during a robbery.

He has pleaded not guilty.

Keith is also upset that more than $100,000 in cash that was seized by police in a search of Keith's Gold Rush pawn shop in Somerset is still being held by authorities. Defense lawyer Bethany Stanziano said that Keith inherited part of that money, which comprised the "life savings" of Keith and his wife Tracy.

"It's their money," Stanziano said.
"She has a child to feed."

Commonwealth's Attorney Richie Bottoms said the money is being held as evidence because police believe some of the cash — about $40,000 — was taken from Smith during the robbery.

During their search of ABC, Gold Rush and Keith's home and church in Burnside, police recovered several items that were sent off for testing for fingerprints and DNA evidence. Those items included cash, guns, live and spent ammunition, money wrappers and materials that appeared to have blood on them.

Reports from some of the testing were returned in June. Bottoms said he would provide the final reports to Stanziano within two weeks and the defense attorney said she would need a week to go over them. Peckler set Jan. 6 for both parties to return to court for a status hearing.

Bottoms said he believes the next step after January's status hearing could be a pretrial conference in February, during which parties indicate to the judge whether the case appears to be headed for a plea bargain or a trial date needs to be set.

If the case goes to trial, Bottoms speculated the earliest it could be set would be in late spring.

Healthcare employee fired
over Facebook post

Louisville Courier Journal

In the latest example of the perils of oversharing on social media, a Norton Healthcare worker has been fired for an inflammatory Facebook post that appeared to call protesters in Ferguson, Mo., "cockroaches."

Late last week, a Facebook post on the account of Renea French Rainey, which identified Rainey as an employee at a Norton Immediate Care Center, began making the rounds in Louisville social media.

The post read, in part, that the protests in Ferguson, Mo., where an unarmed black man was shot and killed by a white police officer, were just an excuse for people "to act more like the animals they are."

The post called for "Real ammo not rubber!!!! The authorities have betrayed their law abiding, peaceful citizens by allowing this to happen. If you shot a few of them the others would scatter like the cockroaches they are!!!!"

The post was screenshot and shared multiple times. Some Twitter users began messaging Norton Healthcare, asking if the Facebook user was indeed an employee. The Norton Twitter account responded that its top executives were

"addressing the situation" and added that "these opinions don't represent our values, standards or operating principles."

Rainey was fired from her job on Tuesday, said Thomas Johnson, a spokesman for Norton Healthcare. The post was publicly brought to the attention of Norton officials by Insider Louisville, who sought a comment from the company.

"This is, as you can understand, a touchy situation," Johnson said as he declined to say how long Rainey had worked for Norton. He said Rainey was fired for violating the company's social media policy, which requires employees in part to "state that your views expressed in your blog or social networking site are of your own and not those of the company."

Man says he
'sleepwalked' when girls were molested

Georgetown News-Graphic

A 39-year-old Georgetown man told police he may have been sleepwalk-ing when two female relatives allegedly were molested, Georgetown police said.

Jeffrey Matthew Carr of the 700 block of George Martin Avenue is charged with first-degree sexual abuse-victim under 12 years of age, Scott County Detention Center records show.

A police report said two juveniles told officers an adult male subjected them to sexual contact. The offense happened on five occasions, the girls told investigators.

The girls made their allegations during forensic interviews at the Children's Advocacy Center of the Bluegrass in Lexington, the report said.

The man told investigators "he believed the allegations could have occurred while he was sleepwalking but denied consciously commit(ing) the offenses," the report said.

The man's interview with investigated was audio- and videotaped, the report said.

Woman injured dog to get pain meds for herself

Elizabethtown News-Enterprise

An Elizabethtown woman is in the Hardin County Detention Center after she was arrested last week and charged with cutting her dog with a razor in order to acquire pain medication for her own use.

Heather D. Pereira, 23, of the 200 block of Oaklawn Drive, reportedly admitted during police questioning to cutting her 4-year-old Golden Retriever in hopes of obtaining Tramadol, a narcotic-like pain reliever used to treat moderate to severe pain.

She cut the dog three times, according to an arrest warrant.

Twice the dog was taken to the Elizabethtown Animal Hospital on Ring Road and once to a Jefferson County facility. The dog was treated on Oct. 1, Oct. 17 and Dec. 4.

Pereira was given Tramadol Oct. 1 at the Jefferson County Animal Hospital on Outer Loop and then Oct. 17 in Elizabethtown.

When she arrived last week, a veterinarian became suspicious of the injuries.

According to the warrant, she claimed to have taken "3 or 4 of the pills and gave the rest to the dog." She told authorities that she cut the dog with disposable razor blades.

She appeared Friday morning in Hardin District Court and is being held on a $5,000 cash bond.

She is charged with three counts of first-offense torture of a cat or a dog, a Class A misdemeanor punishable by up to a year in prison.

She also is charged with three counts of attempt to obtain a controlled substance by making false statements, a Class D felony punishable by up to five years in prison on each charge.

Protect yourself from colds and flu

By Jennifer Overstreet, A.P.R.N.

Winter is just around the corner, and that could mean sniffles, coughs and aches may not be too far behind. You can help protect yourself from getting colds and the flu this winter season by following some simple guidelines.

Perhaps the best thing to protect yourself is to remember to wash your hands. This is the single most effective way to prevent the spread of dangerous germs. You should always wash your hands before eating, after using the bathroom and after performing a task.

To be most effective when washing your hands, use liquid soap and scrub your hands vigorously under warm water for about 15 seconds. Rinse your hands with your fingers pointing downward and then dry them completely. Use a dry paper towel to turn off the water faucet.

If your hands are not visibly soiled, you can also use an alcohol-based hand gel for cleaning germs from your hands.

Other steps you can take to protect yourself from colds and the flu include:

- Get a flu shot, especially if you are 50 and older and have a chronic heart or lung disease.

- Use an antihistamine to stop a runny nose, as it will keep mucus from building up inside your nose.

- Avoid unnecessary contact with individuals who have upper respiratory infections.

- Take care of yourself, as stress, excessive fatigue and poor nutrition increase your risk for colds and the flu.

Jennifer Overstreet is an advanced practice registered nurse who practices at Ephraim McDowell Liberty Family Medical Center. She can be contacted at (606) 787-5963.

Rebels 2-0 at home, 0-2 on road in early season play

By Larry Rowell
Editor

After a season opening win against Marion County in the Bob Payne Classic in Liberty on Dec. 1, the Casey High Rebels stumbled the following night on the road at Clinton County, losing 79-65.

Returning home on Thursday, the team put up impressive numbers against a young Burgin team, winning 79-41.

But once again, a win was followed by a loss, this time on the road on Saturday at Mercer County, 87-52.

Now 2-2 on the season, Coach Maze Stallworth said he's reserving judgment on the way his team's playing until March based on whether or not they met his goal of winning the district title and then advancing to the second round of the regional tournament.

Clinton

Stallworth said that his boys were in the game the whole time, despite a 14-point deficit at Clinton County.

"They wore us down toward the end of the game. They're a real physical team and this will help us down the road," Stallworth said.

The Rebels committed 34 fouls on the night, compared to just 19 for Clinton. Casey shot 24 free throws compared to two and-a-half-times more by Clinton.

Jake Smith led Rebel scorers with 19 points, followed by Collin Miller and Breece Hayes, who each put up 18. Big inside man Tanner Davis scored 10.

Hayes had eight rebounds while Miller had six, Smith, three, Davis and Jordan Brown had three each along with Micco Randall, who also had one.

Miller also had four assists while Brown recorded one.

Burgin

Facing a young Burgin team, Casey got off to a slow start and Stallworth benched the starting five less than two minutes into the first quarter. And the subs then made short order of showing just how capable they were of putting up points and playing defense.

Noah Wesley led the subs and put up three treys, racking up 14 points on the night. Jordan Brown had a good night, scoring 12. Isaiah Spears had six, Micco Randall four. Landon Carman and Isaiah Phillips each had three, Jonathan Gillock, Dustin Richards, and Britt Pendleton recorded two points each.

Smith and Miller each had nine while Davis put up 10. Hayes had three points on the night.

Other stats include 12 team steals, five turnovers and 13 assists.

Mercer

"This wasn't fun at all," Stallworth said of the 35 point loss to Mercer County. "The boys didn't show up."

That they didn't show up was reflected in the lack of points' production from scorers who normally have better games.

The two big inside men, Hayes and Davis, had 14 and 10 points, respectively. Guards Smith and Miller had 11 and seven, while Brown also had seven. Landon Carman put up three.

Smith and Miller each had two assists.

Stallworth called the game "a learning process for a young team."

"They've got to get ready for the big game. It'll prepare us for down the road and we'll be a lot better," he said.

Casey faced Southwestern last night in Pulaski County. On Friday, it's another road trip to face Pulaski Co. High and then on Saturday night, the Rebels are back home against Knox Central.

Lady Rebels drop home opener to Clinton

By Abigail Whitehouse
Staff Writer

Despite 10 players putting points on the board, last week's season opener against Clinton County came as a loss to the Lady Rebels girls' basketball team.

Clinton took home the win, ending the game with an 11 point lead, 52-41 over Casey County.

New Lady Rebs head coach Todd Claunch said the girls got beat on the boards.

"I think in the first half we were out-rebounded by about 8 or 9 rebounds and we missed a lot of shots that we normally make," Claunch said.

The Lady Rebs had 18 turnovers, but managed eight steals and six assists as a team, as well as 22 rebounds.

"We did better in the second half and we had several girls score," Claunch said.

Sarah Harne led the Lady Rebel scoring with eight points, followed by Kyra Eads who scored seven. Christin Terry accounted for nine rebounds, four free-throws, and two steals.

Others who scored included Tiara Cochran, 4 points; Allison Dahlgren, 2; Lashaya Carmen, 5; Myla McGowan, 3; Lakken Miller, 3; Gena Cravens, 6.

The Lady Rebs scored

10 of 17 from the free throw line and 10 of 40 from the two-point range.

The team scored 5 of 21 behind the three-point line.

Franklin Co.

The Lady Rebels faced off against Franklin County last weekend, losing by only 7 points despite several attempts to close the gap.

After the team's second loss, with a final score of 53-46, Coach Claunch believes if the girls had played the way they did against Clinton County, they would have taken home the win.

"We missed some easy shots," Claunch said, "and defensively, we let them get in the middle too frequently and fouled them or let them get to the basket."

Claunch said the Lady Rebels took a lot of shots from behind the three-point line and stayed on the perimeter.

With a 5-point game at half time, the Lady Rebs never gave up, continuing to play hard.

"We got in a little foul trouble early but we held on," Claunch said. "We were down by 14 or 15 points at one time and cut it back to four. We had other opportunities to cut it back even more but we didn't make the right decisions."

The team had eight steals, eight assists, and 30 rebounds. Lady Rebs committed 17 turnovers but went 13 of 19 at the free throw line, 6 of 28 from the two-point range, and 7 of 25 from behind the three-point line. Tiara Cochran led the Lady Rebel scoring with 10.

Individual scoring leaders included: Christen Terry, 8; Lakken Miller, 6; LaShaya Carman, 5; Sarah Harne, 8; Kyra Eads, 8; and Brenna Hayes, 1.

After two defeats, Coach Claunch said there's no doubt the Lady Rebels need to get better with their defense.

"We've got to be more assertive getting to the rim instead of settling for outside shots or pullup shots," he said. "We need to try to be a little more physical getting in there and if we're not scoring, then make sure we're drawing the same fouls Franklin drew on us."

But with each game and each day of practice, Claunch said the Lady Rebels' improvement is very apparent.

"We're getting better and better," Claunch said. "We've just got to come together as a team because if we want to win as a team, we've got to get everybody together on the same page."

The Lady Rebels will face Pulaski County on Friday in their first district game of the season.

Lady Rebel LaShay Carman faces the tip off against a Franklin County player on Saturday in their home opener. Despite staying close to their opponents, the Lady Rebs couldn't overcome the seven point deficit, losing 53-46

In their second home game on Thursday against Burgin, Coach Maze Stallworth pulled his starting five and put the subs in. Noah Wesley hit the floor and picked up three treys. Burgin had no answers for the Rebels, who easily won 79-41.

The Gathering Place of Liberty is more than a thrift store

By Abigail Whitehouse
Staff Writer

The Gathering Place, located in the heart of downtown Liberty, is more than a local thrift store—it's a treasure trove of community donations and support.

"Everything that we have here is donated by people in the city and county," said Brenda Carmicle, the store's manager. "I can't even begin to tell you how many donations we get, it's wonderful." Carmicle said

The Gathering Place is operated by Casey County Community Ministries, a non-profit organization, and sells a variety of donated items consisting of clothing, food, and houseware.

With Christmas just around the corner, The Gathering Place is filling up with all kinds of unique Christmas items and gifts and according to Carmicle, the "Christmas Shop" is overflowing.

"This Christmas we have had people volunteer to refurbish donated Christmas items, like wreaths and Christmas arrangements," Carmicle said. "So we have a lot of those ready to go and they're really pretty."

The Gathering Place is a two-story level store, with five divided rooms on the bottom floor, and one large room upstairs.

Customers who choose to venture upstairs will find that everything in the room costs only $1.

"We have a lot of good things upstairs," Carmicle said, "because we get so many nice donations we can be more selective with what we put downstairs."

Among the various rooms, customers will find anything from men's clothing to women's and infant/toddler's clothing, as well as household items, furniture, linens and more.

"We have something for everyone," Carmicle said.

The Gathering Place is giving back to the Casey County community even more this Christmas by slicing their prices. On Dec. 12, the rescheduled date for Liberty's downtown Christmas celebration, The Gathering Place will hold a store-wide half-off sale, excluding furniture, making everything in the store half of the original price.

"We are just so appreciative of the people who donate," Carmicle said. "The other day somebody said to me 'in small towns every body knows your business.' But I love that because all I have to do when we're low on food in the food pantry is tell a few people we need food and we get it immediately."

Carmicle said The Gathering Place is very fortunate to have such a good community supporting them.

The Gathering Place is located at 107 Courthouse Square, Liberty and is open Mondays through Fridays from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

For more information, call (606) 787-6088.

Anyone interested in donating items may call or stop by The Gathering Place. For overnight donations, a bin is placed outside of the store. Anyone who cannot make it to the store in time and is not comfortable leaving items over night, may call during the day and set up a time to meet and drop off donations after hours.

Lights of Liberty gives community lots to do

By Abigail Whitehouse
Staff Writer

This upcoming Christmas season marks the second year of business for Lights of Liberty Theater, the renovated movie theater in downtown Liberty.

From newly released movies to community plays and dancing recitals, Lights of Liberty has provided the Casey County community with plenty to do, and according to co-owner Laura Hebrock, that's exactly what they will continue to do.

"Next year is expected to be THE movie year," Hebrock said. "There are a lot of cool movies coming out."

Hebrock rattled off movie titles which will debut next year including Fast and Furious 7, featuring the now deceased actor Paul Walker, as well as the popular sequel Mall Cop 2. Into the Woods is another big title Hebrock said LOL would most likely be showing.

Before the 2014 year is over though, LOL plans to show one highly anticipated movie – Night at the Museum: Secret of the Tomb – which is set to release on Dec. 19.

"We cater a lot to family movies," Hebrock said. "A lot

Lights of Liberty, Liberty's only local movie theater, has an assortment of popcorn, candy, and drinks for movie-goers to enjoy as they relax in the theater's cinema seats.

of people have made this their home for a movie and I think that's really cool."

Movies aren't the only thing showing at LOL. Currently, the Casey County Drama Club, partnered with the 21st Century Community Learning Center, is performing "The Best Christmas Pageant Ever," at the theater. Performances began Friday, Dec. 5 with 10 show times scheduled through Dec. 13, making it the most performed play at LOL so far.

"We do so many things here that most movie theaters can't do because it's a smaller theater," Hebrock said. "We have a stage and we've done a lot of things with it – fundraisers, plays, talent shows, etc. It's really becoming more of a community center."

Originally the Kentuckian Theater, Lights of Liberty has become a popular venue once again, welcoming all sorts of entertainment and providing Liberty residents with a low-price place to watch movies.

Standard ticket prices are considerably lower than nearby theaters, with tickets costing $4 before 6:30 p.m., and $6 thereafter.

To purchase tickets online or to review showtimes visit www.lightsofliberty.com or call (606) 303-9041.

Assault

■ Richard Payton, 44, of 72 Creston Water Tower Spur Road, Liberty, was arrested on Nov. 24 at his residence by Deputy Chad G. Weddle and charged with fourth-degree assault domestic violence. Court records state that Payton struck D. D. Fletcher in the face with his elbow, leaving marks on her face.

■ Andrew R. Grubbs, 27, and Krystal Grubbs, 30, both of 70 Rodgers Road, Liberty, were arrested on Dec. 2 at their residence by Trooper Kevin Roberts and charged with fourth-degree assault domestic violence no visible injury. Roberts states that Andrew hit Krystal in the face with his fist after she struck him in the back with a baseball bat. Andrew was also charged with driving on a suspended/revoked driver's license as he arrived at the house after Roberts did.

DUI

Michael Franklin, 45, of 2891 Chestnut Level Road, Liberty, was arrested on Nov. 29 on Chestnut Level Road by Trooper Kevin Roberts and charged with second offense DUI, failure to wear seat belts, failure to maintain required insurance, failure to produce insurance card, license to be in possession, and failure to/or improper signal. Court documents state that Roberts saw Franklin making a turn without a signal and not wearing a seat belt. Franklin admitted to smoking marijuana 45 minutes before the traffic stop.

Burglary

Deputy Jamie Walters is investigating a residence at 5214 Ky. 1547 that was broken into on Dec. 1. Walters states that owner Robert Kidd said that someone entered the residence by using a screwdriver to pry open a door sometime between 7:15 a.m. and 4 p.m. The thief took his son's prescription medication, Risperdol, one half gallon of Benchmark whiskey, an H & R eight-shot .22 pistol, a Ruger Single Six .22 pistol, and a Ruger Super Blackhawk .44 magnum pistol. Anyone with any information is asked to contact the Casey County Sheriff's Dept. at (606) 787-6821.

Theft

Roger Thompson, with Owens Construction Company in Windsor, told Sheriff Jerry Coffman that someone recently took tools from his pickup toolbox valued at more than $2,500. Among the missing items were two DeWalt impact and screw guns, a Bosch hammer drill, a grinder, a box of bits and nut drivers, a four-piece hole saw and a DeWalt skill saw. Anyone with any information is asked to contact the Casey County Sheriff's Dept. at (606) 787-6821.
